Dizzy Speed of Technical Advance

The speed with which technology alters industrial patterns today is breath-taking—at the same time creating many a financial pitfall.

Ten years ago if you owned a bundle of stock in Mergenthaler Linotype Co's holding firm you were well-off. Today the Linotype is no longer manufactured in the U.S., and to get one you have to make a special order to the British subsidiary company and wait while the machine is manufactured.

"Cold type" has supplanted hot-metal machines on all of the offset-printed newspapers and on many of the larger papers which are still using the letterpress method.

The Star switched to offset printing Dec. 29, 1965, the fourth Arkansas daily company to do so. The first and all-important machine was our 20-page News King rotary offset press, on which we are winding up the serial payment this year. We continued using linotypes, proofing the galleys of type, photographing the proofs and then throwing away the slugs, until June 1966.

At that time we switched to Just-O-Writers, automatic tape-fed machines resembling typewriters, knowing that technical advances would soon make them obsolete. And so they were within three years. But we had obtained faster production and a more clear print in the meantime.

In 1969 the Compugraphic Corporation had on the market the new computer-controlled phototypesetters, and we leased two of them for a total capacity of 40 lines a minute. We leased them for two reasons, (1) we still owed a major debt on the press, and (2) we had a suspicion the inventors weren't through with changes on the 1969 models. We were correct. Within 10 months of their installation date our two machines were technically obsolete because Compugraphic switched to solid-state circuits. Therefore we are in the happy position of being able when the leases expire in 1974 to demand the solid-state machines either by lease or purchase.

Our headlines and advertising text are still being composed in hand-assembled lines on Morisawa photo machines because until now there was in our price bracket no "crap mill" to turn out big type with a keyboard.

But this big machine has been announced by Compugraphic, and another Southwest Arkansas publisher and our mechnical superintendent, Billy Dan Jones, and I are going to view the first installation in our state in a couple of weeks. But here's a startling turn:

The Compugraphic phototypesetter sets type by running a circular film strip at constant speed and then "freezing" the wanted letters by flashing a strobe light—the same kind of light used in electronic flash on cameras.

But while we are debating installing this new machine a rival company announces it has brought out a model using the Laser light, a more powerful strobe and a faster operation.

This produces the startling question: Is the machine we are now considering obsolete even before we install it?

Not quite, further investigation shows. The Laser-equipped machine costs three times what we would be willing to pay, and its speed is 25 lines a minute, only slightly faster than Compugraphic's 20.

We'll go ahead with our inspection trip—but it does show you what a crazy and uncertain world business men are operating in today.

A volunteer worker with the Red Cross Bloodmobile interviews Don Gilbert, of Hope, a prospective blood donor Monday—the first day of a two-day Bloodmobile visit. Gilbert has donated nine pints of blood to the Red Cross program. A total of 92 pints of blood were donated during Monday's visit. The Bloodmobile will accept donors here again today from 12 noon to 6 p.m. at the First Presbyterian Church. More donors are needed to help meet the quota for this fiscal year.

July 1, 1973 cut off date

End of draft deadline set

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon is aiming to stop draft inductions by December, about six months ahead of President Nixon's deadline for ending military conscription.

"Every effort will be made to minimize draft calls, if not avoid them entirely, between January and July, 1973, when the current induction authority expires," Secretary of Defense Melvin Laird pledged in a report to President Nixon.

The 51-page report was distributed by the California White House and the Pentagon Monday as Nixon announced in San clemente he will make good on a 1968 campaign promise to end the draft and rely entirely on volunteers to fill the armed forces.

His stated goal is July 1 of next year but Laird's report showed a zero draft may be reached half a year early.

Neither Nixon or Laird linked announcement of the report with the current presidential election but Laird agreed the statement could reap large benefits from the youth vote this November.

The Pentagon already this year has slashed planned inductions to a maximum of 50,000 young men—the lowest total in ten years and about 330,000 below the Vietnam war crest in 1966. Laird's report said "The dramatic decline in draft calls has been made possible by substantially reducing the size of the active force and by attracting more voluntary enlistees to military service."

U.S. military manpower now stands at slightly more than 2.3 million men. This is 1.2 million below the Vietnam war peak.

Both the President and Laird stressed achievement of the all volunteer force will require congressional enactment of a series of bills broadening authority to pay enlistment and re-enlistment bonuses for military skills in both the regular forces and the national guard and reserve, and bonus incentives designed to attract doctors to military careers.

The Army and Marine Corps have been trying a $1,500 enlistment bonus for men signing up for four-year hitches in ground combat units.

Laird reported increasing success with this pilot bonus plan. The Army, which was having trouble getting volunteers for the infantry, artillery and armor, signed up 5,400 men in June—about 400 more than average monthly needs.

Nixon announces troop withdrawal

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (AP) — President Nixon announced today he is cutting U.S. troop strength in Vietnam by 12,000 over the next three months, reducing the force to 27,000, by Dec. 1.

Relaying this word, Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said he did not know whether any further withdrawals would be authorized after Dec. 1.

The Nixon spokesman pointed out that the troop level has been reduced by 522,500, or 95 per cent, since Nixon took office.

There has long been speculation that withdrawals would be halted after the number of uniformed Americans reached a "residual force" level of about 25,000.

Ziegler said that residual force "would not be an appropriate term to use here." But he declined to promise further future withdrawals, saying such decisions would be "based on conditions as they exist at that time."

Ziegler said Nixon would have another announcement on troop levels, but added that it would not come before the Nov. 7 election.

As in the past, he said the United States "will not leave Vietnam without a full release of and accounting for prisoners of war and missing in action."

In a CBS television interview earlier this year, Nixon hinted — without getting precise — that he expected the eventual residual force to total 25,000-35,000 uniformed Americans.

U.S. forces in South Vietnam have declined steadily since a peak of 543,400 in April 1969 — three months after Nixon took office.

Although troop withdrawals have continued since Hanoi and the Viet Cong launched a major offensive last February, cutbacks have been more than offset by increases in U.S. forces waging air and naval warfare from Thailand, Guam and the 7th Fleet offshore. The American presence in these sectors has doubled or better to 49,000 in Thailand, 39,000 with the 7th Fleet and 20,000 on Guam.

The Vietnam war will figure in a Nixon journey to Honolulu Wednesday for summit talks with Kakuei Tanaka, Japan's prime minister. Although Nixon and Tanaka are not expected to discuss the subject at any length, the President will meet there Thursday morning with Ellsworth Bunker, the U.S. ambassador flying in from Saigon.

Nixon and McGovern:

Announcements due today on separate issues

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon and his Democratic challenger Sen. George McGovern prepared major announcements today concerning separate issues where each is considered politically vulnerable.

The South Dakota senator unveiled his revised welfare plan in a speech to the New York Society of Security Analysts, a Wall Street audience whose members would feel the brunt of McGovern's numerous tax reform proposals.

The Democratic candidate called for a federally guaranteed annual income of $4,000 for a family of four, expanding Social Security to cover thousands not now protected and guaranteeing one million public service jobs for the presently unemployed.

To pay for the roughtly $29-billion-a-year program, McGovern outlined a series of tax reforms aimed at closing so-called loopholes on those who make money from investments in property, stock, bonds and the like. He also called for a $30 billion cut in military spending over the next three years.

"No American," McGovern said twice in the talk, "whose income comes from wages and salaries would pay one penny more in federal taxes than he does now."

McGovern made no specific mention of the $1,000-per-American income supplement plan he had previously proposed as an alternative to the present welfare system. He said, "We must resolve the question of income supplements for working people who, in spite of their labor, still have trouble making ends meet," adding that he had asked leading economists to work on the problem.

The President, combining work and rest at the Western White House at San Clemente, Calif., carefully scheduled his troop announcement apart from a political news conference to follow.

Democrats have made frequent mention of Nixon's campaign statement four years ago that he had a secret plan to end the war.

But McGovern's promise of an immediate pullout from Southeast Asia contributed in part to the AFL-CIO Executive Council's decision, reaffirmed in Chicago, to remain neutral in the 1972 presidential sweepstakes.

Federation President George Meany said he feels the Democratic nominee is advocating U.S. surrender in Vietnam, but he considers the White House's economic record as a disaster for working men.

"I'm sitting out the campaign," Meany said. "I won't vote for either one."

Instead, he said the federation's political fund-raising arm, COPE, will channel funds to selected candidates in about 16 Senate races and 80 House contests.

McGovern, appearing at a news conference to discuss his own fund-raising efforts, said he would welcome a General Accounting Office investigation of his books as suggested by Republicans.

"We'll welcome the GAO or any other investigator who wants to look at our files," he said. "In fact, we want the American people to know where every dollar comes from."

The suggestion was raised Sunday by Maurice Stans, Nixon's campaign finance chairman, in the wake of a GAO report citing "apparent and possible violations" by the GOP of the Federal Election Campaign Act.

Court orders implementation of busing plan

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — The 6th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals today ordered implementation of a busing-desegregation plan involving nearly 14,000 Memphis city school pupils.

The court, in a 2-1 decision, affirmed "in its entirety" a busing order issued in April by Judge Robert M. McRae of U.S. District Court in Memphis.

Today's order is effective with the fall term of school, which started Monday.

The decision, written by Judge Anthony Celebrezze of Cleveland, Ohio, came in a case which entered the courts in 1960.

The circuit court said the dual system "has not yet been eliminated" in Memphis and that failure to provide a unitary system is the fault of the school board.

"It is clear," the opinion said, "that far from having achieved a unitary system, the board has helped perpetuate the old dual system."

The appeals court directed the district court in Memphis to prepare a definite timetable providing for the establishment of a fully unitary school system in the least possible time.

On June 6, the court issued a stay order in the Memphis case, pending full appeal by both the Memphis school board and the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

The school board had argued that McRae's plan imposed an unnecessary burden on it and on the pupils in the Memphis system, which is the nation's 10th biggest with an enrollment of 145,000.

Committee decides Puerto Rico has a right to be independent

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — A U.N. committee on colonialism, pushed on by Communist nations, has decided that Puerto Rico has a right to independence from the United States.

Over U.S. charges of interference in its domestic affairs, the Special Committee on Colonialism voted 12-0 Monday to recognize "the inalienable right of the people of Puerto Rico to self-determination and independence." Ten nations on the 22-member group abstained.

The committee asked a working group to study how to extend to Puerto Rico the provisions of the U.N. Declaration Against Colonialism.

Puerto Ricans filling the visitors' gallery cheered and applauded the outcome. They had more applause for Cuban Ambassador Ricardo Alarcon, who has made a personal campaign out of branding the United States a colonial power occupying the Caribbean island.

"The final stretch in the road of independence has begun," declared Juan Mari-Bras, a leader of the Puerto Rican independence movement.

Mari-Bras said the action clearly classified Puerto Rico as a colony. But a U.S. spokesman said the wording of the resolution was ambiguous. He stressed that the matter was being referred to a working group and that no report was asked until 1973.

Puerto Rico is a self-governing commonwealth of the United States; its peoples are U.S. citizens who are subject to the draft, but they pay no federal taxes and have no voting representation in the U.S. Congress. In the last referendum, in 1967, 425,081 voted in favor of continued commonwealth status, 273,315 voted for statehood and 4,205 voted for independence.

In Washington, State Department officials said the decison was "an insult to the people of Puerto Rico, who have chosen to live in a democracy under a constitution of their own choosing in free association with the United States."

China and the Soviet Union gave the Cuban ambassador support in the debate. Chang Yung-kuan, the Chinese delegate, said Puerto Rico "is, in fact, a colony of the United States and the Puerto Rican people's struggle for national independence is a just one..."

The action applies only to the committee and not to the United Nations as a whole. A year ago Alarcon tried to bring the Puerto Rican question before the 132-nation General Assembly, but failed by a wide margin to get the necessary vote to put it on the agenda.

Increases in car prices is denied

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Price Commission today denied requests by Ford and General Motors for price increases on their 1973 models.

Commissioner Chairman C. Jackson Grayson Jr. said the request of the two giant automakers was being denied because the commission has determined that the increases could push the profit margins of the two firms beyond permissible limits.

The decision meant that consumers could expect to avoid a price hike on GM and Ford cars at least until November. Grayson said that the two companies may resubmit requests after profit figures are in for the second quarter of their fiscal year.

Ford, in a request revised this week, had asked for a $59 or 1.79 per cent increase. The request covered safety equipment and emission controls.

General Motors had asked for a $54 or 1.53 per cent boost for the same purpose.

Chrysler Corp. and American Motors also have requests pending before the commission.

Grayson said these requests would continue to be suspended until the commission can hold hearings on auto prices next month.

He acknowledged, however, that implicit in the decision on Ford and General Motors was a judgment that Chrysler and American Motors were not apt to exceed their allowable profit margin.

The present fiscal year quarter ends Sept. 31, making Oct. 1 the earliest possible date on which the automakers could renew their requests for increases.

In response to a question, Grayson acknowledged that it would be Nov. 1 before a price hike could go into effect should the commission reconsider its decision in light of new profit information.

On other topics, Grayson said the commission planned no major steps in the area of food prices nor for gasoline.

But he noted the rising price of wheat and said a meeting was scheduled today with the American Bakers Association on their request for price increases.

Grayson said the commission will not apply a three per cent lid on services as had been under discussion. He said, however, that fees for professional services were still under consideration and an announcement would be made soon.

Grayson was peppered with questions about the political overtones of his announcement.

He was reminded that Democratic presidential candidate Sen. George McGovern was scheduled to speak in New York today.

Grayson said that did not play a part in the decision or the announcement. "We are making this decision independent of any political dates."

Student Council workshop held

By LESTER SITZES

The Hope High School Student Council for 1972-73 met Saturday to conduct their annual summer workshop.

Assembled in the Conference Room of the School Administration Building, the council faced a full agenda.

Senior Class President Billy McCorkle gave the opening invocation; Mike Huckabee, President of the Hope Student Council, then led the members through the preliminary steps to open the meeting.

Secretary Rebecca Stuart called the roll and treasurer Debbie Impson gave a treasury status report. Then, Mrs. A.E. Williams, Mrs. Katherine Jordan, and Tim Strawn, council sponsors, were introduced to the members of the council.

Three members were voted into special offices. These were Dick McCormack parliamentarian; Tim Gunter, Sergeant-at-arms, and Billy McCorkle, chaplain.

Huckabee then discussed the council handbook, its constitution, various committees, and their duties and fairness in the "Spirit Contest."

Also appearing before the council was John E. Bush, a representative of the Educators Service Center, Inc.—a Little Rock supply house for teaching aids.

Accompanied by Rev. Gordon Renshaw, Bush's purpose in speaking to the governing body was to introduce the growth, methods, and opportunities of Scope, a firm located in the urban areas of New York City.

This firm, which has been operating for about seven years, specializes in the production of drug education materials. These materials, ranging from books to films with sound, warn of the danger of taking unprescribed, unsafe and illegal drugs.

Programs are included for students from kindergarten through the 12th grade. "Scope is being widely used in the U.S. and has found appeal among the students," Bush said. Out of 150 students surveyed at one high school, 147 found the materials offered by Scope to be excellent."

Stressing the importance of such a program, Bush stated, "Man has come from witchcraft to modern medicine with the help of drugs, but if we misuse them, man will develop into modern witchcraft."

Bush's hope was that the council would buy such a program for the whole school district, a project that could range to more than $500.

Hope's council, expressed a favorable reaction to the program and voted to study the materials and to buy what was agreed upon by an appointed committee. The money, now in a bank account, is the cumulative efforts of student councils to raise money for such a drug program by holding money-raising projects. This is not tax money, but earned money belonging to the student body, Huckabee reminded the group.

Alan Foster, Strawn, and administration official Dale Franks were appointed as the committee to study the proposed program.

After dinner, the council then heard a report on the National Association of Student Councils Convention held at Chicago this summer. Carol Frazier and Rebecca Stuart gave the program.

Mrs. Jordan, Sherry Crippen, and Tony Yocum gave a report on the Arkansas Association of Student Councils workshop.

Ideas on school projects, such as "Powder Puff, homecoming, "Operation Goodwill," and intramural sports were then exchanged.

McCorkle led the benediction.

Permit is issued to Sawyer Downs track

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The Louisiana State Racing Commission has granted a new 10-year permit to Sawyer Downs, a new track planned for Bosier Parish near Shreveport.

The permit was approved Monday after the commission confirmed that voters in the parish had approved the track by a slim margin Aug. 19. The official vote was 6,925 in favor of the track and 6,430 against it. Church leaders had fought the track.

Commission chairman Albert Stall said it was the first time in the nation's history that a local option vote on racing had been passed.

John Wolcott, president of the new track, said he hopes to begin construction of the $13.5 million facility in 90 days and have it completed a year to 16 months later.

He said the track would be designed to handle 21,000 comfortably, with a maximum capacity of 30,000. This would make it the largest track in Louisiana.

The crowd record at the Fair Grounds in New Orleans is approximately 23,000.

Wolcott said the track will have 20 penthouses and 14 of them already have been leased for $10,000 a year. He added that he received 934 applications for 342 boxes to be included in the facility.

"I think you have a chance to really put Louisiana on the map so far as racing is concerned," said Stall.

Officials of the new track say they expect to attract racing fans from East Texas and Southern Arkansas as well as from North Louisiana.

One of the financial backers of the new track is the chairman of the board of Holiday Inns, Inc.

The Sawyer Downs item came up after the commission postponed until Spet. 11 a scheduling hearing on whether Emprise Corp. should be forced to sell its 40 per cent interest in Jefferson Downs, a track in surburban New Orleans.

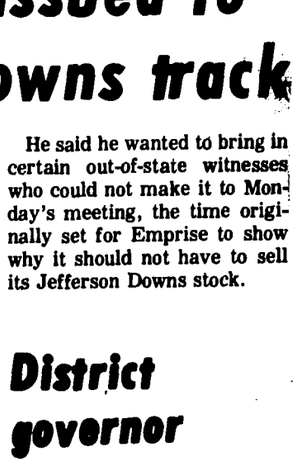

Atty. Gen. William Guste, who has said he will present evidence supporting his position that Emprice should be forced out of Jefferson Downs, asked for the postponement.

He said he wanted to bring in certain out-of-state witnesses who could not make it to Monday's meeting, the time originally set for Emprise to show why it should not have to sell its Jefferson Downs stock.

W. W. MYERS

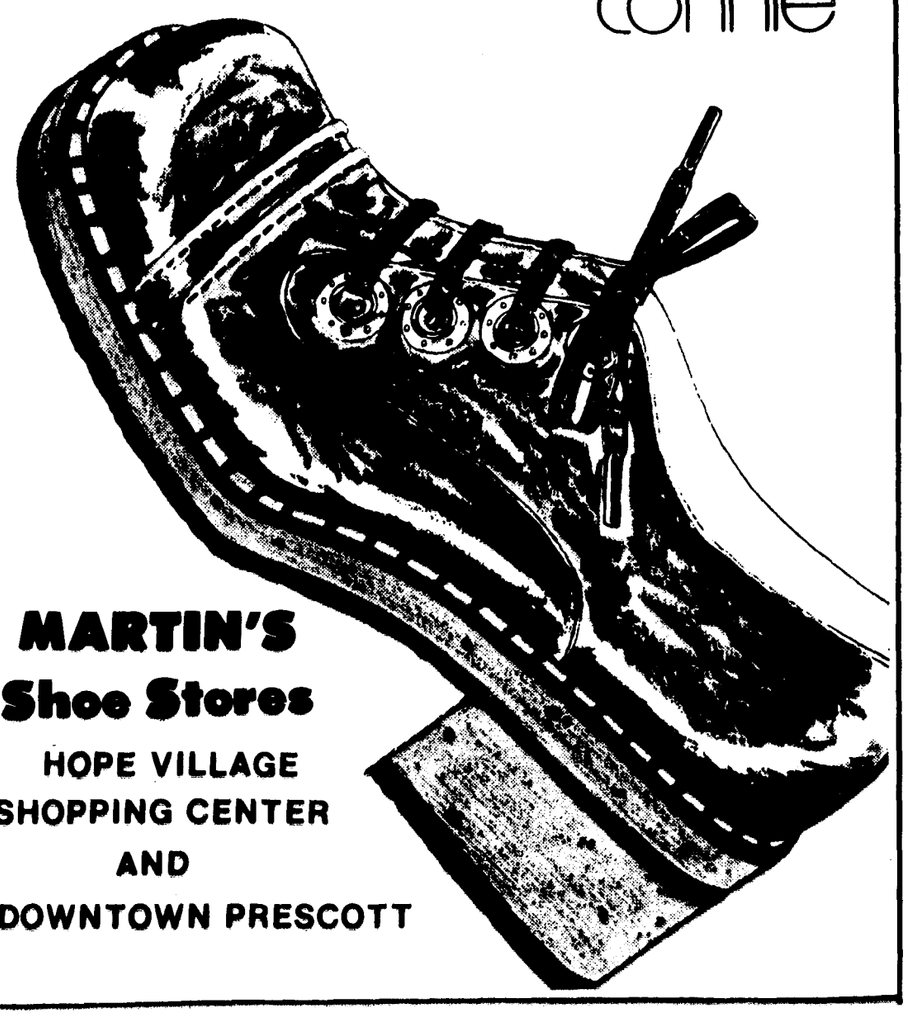

Civic responsibility, as a group member was stressed throughout Myers' address.

In conjunction with the principle address, Lion Harold Freeman gave a short report on the workings of Lions International headquarters. Announcement was made of the Annual Family Picnic to be held Sept. 11.

In a seperate ceremony John Samuels was sworn in as a new member of the Hope Lions Club. Joe Eason was a visitor for the meeting.

Friday Bridge Club meets

A local Friday Bridge Club met with Mrs. H.C. Whitworth on August 25, and she had seasonal flowers at vantage points in her home. When scores were tallied, Mrs. R.E. Cooper was high.

A salad plate and iced tea were served for refreshments.

Pre-nuptial parties fete Miss Royston

Prior to their wedding on August 12 Miss Margjoie Royston and Joe B. Scruggs, III of Little Rock were feted with two dinner parties. The first, on August 4, was in Pine Bluff at the home of Dr. and Mrs. T.E. Townsend with Dr. and Mrs. Roy Scoggins as co-hosts. The 16 guests included the couples parents, Dr. and Mrs. J.B. Scruggs, Jr. of Little Rock and Mr. and Mrs. G.D. Royston, Jr. The bride-elect wore a white crepe dress and had a fleu d'amour corsage. Summer flowers and candles in silver centered the serving table. The host couples' gift to the honorees was a silver tree platter.

The night of August 5 in Little Rock another dinner party was given for them at the home of Dr. and Mrs. D.B. Cheairs by the Young Life Committee officers and board of directors. Among the 31 guests were the parents of the honored couple. Miss Royston wore green and white cotton and had a white daisy corsage. The guests were served at quartet tables centered with zinnias, marigolds and salsies. As a gift a love-seat divan and matching chair for their new home was presented to the wedding couple.

Family members host miscellaneous shower

Relatives of Mrs. Joe B. Scruggs, III, nee Marjorie Royston, entertained for her on two occasions shortly before her wedding. Only family members attended the miscellaseous shower for her on August 7 at the home of an aunt, Mrs. W.S. Cope of Prescott, with Mrs. Grandy Royston of Arkadelphia, sister-in-law of the honoree, as co-hostess.

Among the 25 guests were the mother and sister-in-law of the groom, Mrs. J.B. Scruggs, Jr. and Mrs. Jan Scruggs of Little Rock. The guest of honor wore a green linen dress and a corsage of marigolds and wedding bells. After several games were played and the gifts were presented. Guests were served frosted raspberry punch, cake, nuts and mints from a table overlaid with a blue cutwork cloth centered with a silver bowl of zinnias and marigolds flanked by candles. The hostesses' gift was a harvest gold electric mixer.

The bridesmaids' luncheon on August 9 at the Pleasant Valley Country Club in Little Rock had as hostesses, an aunt, Mrs. W.C. Nolen, and cousins, Mrs. Keith Golden and Mrs. Gilbert Dean. Miss Royston wore a white linen dress and had a corsage of orchid asters. Among the 14 guests were the mothers of the couple, Mrs. Scruggs and Mrs. G.D. Royston, Jr., who had corsages of orchid aster-mums. The serving table was centered with an orchid arrangement of asters, carnations and glads. A gift of linen was presented by the hostesses.

Fall shape is free and loose

By Ernestine Guglielmo

NEW YORK—(NEA)—Fall fashion designs will leave a lot to the imagination and bring a sigh of relief to many women. Emphasis has been on the long, lean body but the message for Fall '72 is "stay loose." The slender silhouette generally has been abandoned. This has been a blessing to women who have added a few extra pounds during lazy summer months. They don't have to cringe while pirouetting before a store mirror during a shopping spree. The Fall shape is loose, free and flowing.

Coats no longer are close fitting and body hugging. Shorter, fuller coats, wide-wrap coats and flaring toppers will all but replace last year's thin midi. The long evening coat will be the only version retaining the lean look.

The everyday dress is making a big comeback and the variations all accent a soft femininity. Chemise dresses, smock dresses and the even fuller tent dress will rival pants as a daytime favorite. The newest and sexiest rendition of the sweater dress has a tight bodice with a short flaired bottom.

The skirt suit gets revitalized by giving the sleeves lots of attention, moving away from the tailored shape. Designers are using dolmans, batwings, raglan, kimono, cap and full sleeves to enhance an otherwise conventional suit. The short rib jacket also will be a popular topping to the shirt suit.

Legs are swinging into full view with shorter skirts, from mid knee to two to six inches above the knee, for both daytime and evening. Shoes still will focus attention on the legs. Sole treatments will continue with the high platform to go with the extra wide pants, but a more classic pump, T-strap or sling back will be worn with daytime dresses.

For evening, the short party dress leads the trend back to the soft, feminine look and comes out ahead of pants. It's a return to the real party dress, complete with ruffles and tiers of chiffon or dark-colored lace or net. The long evening dress in body-clinging fabrics also will appear at social events and this time is matched with a sweater of fur-trimmed jacket.

However, pants lovers will find an interesting selection this fall. Pants are extra wide, almost baggy, with front pleats, high waist and cuffs. They'll be worn day or evening. Pants have a daytime look with a sweater vest, schoolboy beret and rib jacket. For evening, pants can be topped with a sophisticated sweater packet.

All the fall colors will be captured in different plaid patterns. There will even be enameled plaid jewelry, plaid cloche hats or knit caps and plaid scarves for accessories. Interestingly, plaids will be matched with the palest of shades. Pastel colors will slip gracefully from summer to fall, emphasizing the soft, feminine feeling.

Fabrics have more surface interest with designers favoring brushed wool, mohair, angora and nubby tweeds. And designers have shown continuing fashion freedom by mixing fabrics and patterns.

A new coordination comes from the mixing of plaids and tweeds with stripes or checks, leaving a whole new look open in never-before combinations. You put your own artistry to work with the professionals' creations. That is why '72 fall fashion leaves a lot to the imagination.

(NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN.)

Suits make fashion waves for women of all ages this fall. A classic suit look spotlights the longer, double-buttoned jacket (left) shown here in tiny checks of beige/brown wool with pleated skirt. A Davidow design, it is teamed with a bone silk pongee man-tailored shirt softened by a large brown velvet bow. Another jacket costume by Tom Nasarre of Images, meanwhile, features (right) a high standing collar and gilt buttons. It is in beige Trevira and wool.

Dr. Lawrence E. Lamb

Only appearances change

Facelift doesn't always help

Dear Dr. Lamb—I am a career woman in my 60s and think that a facelift might help me in my work. Would you please explain a little bit about this operation, such as the amount of time one must be away from work and the results, the dangers at this age, the length of the operation and any other information you might have?

Dear Reader—Whether or not a person should have a facelift is an individual matter. The best reason for having one is pure vanity because a person wants to look better. In our age-conscious society it's also helpful to some people in business and professions which place a premium on youth. One of the problems of facelifts is that people often expect too much. It may make the face look younger but it's not going to change what's inside the skin. The body will still be the same age. Nevertheless, if it improves a person's appearance and he is pleased with this change, it may affect his personality favorably. Older individuals who are still full of life and think young are sometimes handicapped by a decrepit look of old age caused by the wrinkling and sagging of the face. For these people a facelift is often beneficial.

Not all faces are improved by such surgery. In general a face that sags or hangs in folds is apt to be improved, whereas a face that has a lot of fine wrinkles, particularly those running up and down the face, is not so apt to be improved.

There are several different techniques for a facelift. In general I think the technique that removes the skin next to the hairline without pulling the hair back is the best.

In general facelifts are not dangerous.

The best thing for you to do is to have a consultation with a plastic surgeon who does cosmetic surgery. Your family physician may be able to find one for you or, if for one reason or another you don't wish to do it that way, you can request help from the county medical society.

HELEN BOTTEL

Slang: Alive and Well—and How!

RAP:

Reading your column on outdated slang compelled me to write. You asked for new samples, since the fadeout of the drug and hippie goodies.

Those things were done to death, so we made some adaptions to "cosmic" words, like Groovy is now "Gravy-baby"; far out is "farm out"; outasite: "out-a-state," off the wall," "inside out," "out in the distance"; knock it off: "narc it arf"; right on: "left arm."

Anyone can do it. Instead of saying "Make like a nut and bolt," or "Make like a tree and leave," I will now make like a banana and split.—M.M.G.

HELEN AND SUE:

Here are some new slang words we're using in the west:

Crunchy: great
Burn: to improvise
Dig up: listen
Tuff tootie: too bad
Rad: really sharp

But I don't think "cool" will ever go out of style.—JEANNIE

DEAR RAP:

When we'd rather say a word that would get us in trouble with big-eared parents, we say things like "Oh, peanut butter!" "Fudgecycle!" "Son of a Pickle!" "Oh, She-e-e-rman!" etc.

Fun, and better than getting your mouth washed out with soap.—BARB

RAP:

Samples of new slang? Some of us have taken to using the third person, referring to oneself as "she" or "he," and to each other, instead of "you," as "he," "she," "they," "them." Believe us, it's a trip!

Many of our statements end with "or what." Referring to myself, I'd say, "she's tired, or what." ("I'm tired.")

"Oof," "Doof," "Skidoop," are kind of sighs, or what.

Then there are always the old faithfuls, like "funky," "for real" (he agrees), "baddest" (the best), "Much, man, much" (what of it?), etc.

We're really trying to retire "you know," but it's, you know, hard.

Welp, (got that from you, Sue), there are more, but I've gotta roll.—C.P.

GANG:

Around here a new thing is "spelling it out," and always wrong. As in: "Be quick—q-w-i-k—quick." Or "I almost puked—p-w-k-t—puked." Or "That's cool—k-u-l—cool." Or "You're dumb—d-u-m—dumb."—SUE

NOTE FROM HELEN:—As if "speling techrs" didn't already have enough trouble!

DEAR HELEN AND SUE:

You champion slang. For shame! The purpose of language is to communicate. Slang distorts. Under the guise of "progressive individualism" we build a Tower of Babel. The old and young are split by a language barrier. Sometimes students invent new words for a "cover," so they can close parents and teachers out. Actually, slang originated for this purpose—it was used by the underworld to describe crimes—a gig, a trick, a "hit," etc.

I am dismayed and frightened by the ignorance of the average college student. He spends time inventing "psuedo intellectual" slang, and throwing around four-letter obscenities, but the beautiful English language is foreign to him. I find that I must define common words in order to communicate.

Instead of telling them slang is a "vital part of the language," inspire them to learn the good, solid words in the dictionary, Helen and Sue!—MRS. H.S.

DEAR MSRS. S.:

Sorry, we STILL think slang is the spice in the stew... and we DON'T consider the "average college student" ignorant!—HELEN AND SUE

(GOT A PROBLEM? Or a subject for discussion, two-generation style? Direct your questions to either Sue or Helen Bottel—or both, in care of this newspaper, if you want a combination mother-daughter answers.)

Bengals rally in second half to overcome Eagles

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Coach Paul Brown believes his Cincinnati Bengals have arrived as a solid National Football League team, not one that makes the headlines every so often by upsetting an established team.

Brown's five-year-old Bengals rallied in the second half Tuesday to overcome the Philadelphia Eagles 34-20 in an exhibition game. Cincinnati trailed 17-10 at halftime, but scored three touchdowns and a field goal as the injury-riddled Eagles' defense came apart.

"This is our fifth year," said Brown, "and our plans were by this time to play every team right to the ground and not sneak in the back door and upset some established team. I think we are able to do that now."

Brown's Bengals, who were last in the NFC's Central Division last season with a 4-10 record, now are 2-2 in the preseason schedule. Philadelphia is 1-3.

Brown was particularly pleased with the performance of Ken Anderson, the sophomore quarterback from Augustana (Ill.) College, who completed 12 of 17 passes for 155 yards and led the Bengals' second half comeback.

Veteran quarterback Pete Liske passed 24 yards to Gary Ballman to put Philadelphia on the scoreboard first. After Cincinnati's Horst Muhlmann kicked an 11-yard field goal, Liske slammed over from the one to cap an 80-yard drive. Al Beauchamp scored for the Bengals on a 7-yard pass interception and Tom Dempsey ended first-half scoring with a 30-yard field goal.

Running back Paul Robinson scored twice for the Bengals in the second half and Muhlmann and Dempsey exchanged field goals, Philadelphia's coming on a 52-yarder.

Elsewhere in pro football, Coach George Allen acquired another veteran for his "Over-the-Hill Gang" Washington Redskins when he picked up defensive lineman Jerry Rush from the Cleveland Browns.

Rush, 29, a seven-year player for the Detroit Lions, was traded to the Browns earlier this year.

Another veteran, defensive end Ben Davidson of Oakland, who was facing a tough fight for his job now has to contend with a pulled leg muscle he suffered in Saturday's game against Buffalo.

Davidson was hurt when he picked up a fumble and returned it 23 yards before falling on the last play of the game.

In NFL transactions Monday, quarterback Don Gault moved from Cleveland to San Diego on waviers; cornerback Art Hicks was picked up as a free agent after being dropped by Washington; and two-year taxi-squad quarterback Bob Leahy was put on waviers by the Pittsburgh Steelers along with four rookies.

N.Y. Giants are a study in contrast

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Giants are a study in contrast as the National Football League season nears.

They've got one of the deeper pass-receiving corps but less-than-superior passers.

They've got one of the stronger linebacking and secondary defensive units—but one that has to be because of a line that could be as porous as a sieve.

And they've got one of the better running backs in the business, without too much to back him up.

The pass-catchers are, at wide receiver, Don Herrmann, Rich Houston and Bob Grim and, at tight end, Bob Tucker.

But Grim, who had his best year last season, became a holdout and signed only last week.

That, according to the Giants, cost him what would have been almost a guaranteed starting spot.

Grim came from the Minnesota Vikings along with quarterback Norm Snead in the trade that sent quarterback Fran Tarkenton back to the Vikes.

Now Grim will have to beat out Houston, who caught 24 passes for 426 yards and four touchdowns last season but showed an unfortunate tendency to drop costly tosses. Herrmann, more sure-handed but with less speed than Houston, grabbed 27 passes for 297 yards and a touchdown in 1971.

Tucker became the first tight end in NFL history last season to win a pass-catching title, leading the National Conference with 59 receptions for 791 yards and four touchdowns in only his second year in the league.

Throwing the ball to them will be either Snead or Randy Johnson, neither of whom has shown he has that undefineable quality of leadership. Snead is in his 11th pro year and Johnson in his sixth.

Johnson, the Giants' No. 2 passer last season behind Tarkenton, has been elevated to No. 1 and still holds that position despite being sidelined—possibly for the remainder of the exhibition schedule—with a collarbone separation.

Safeties Scott Eaton and Carl Lockhart and cornerbacks Pete Athas and Willie Williams anchor the New York secondary with Jim Files and Pat Hughes at outside linebacker and Ron Hornsby at middle linebacker.

The line, with a lack of depth last year that delighted opposition quarterbacks and runners, has been strengthened by the addition of Jack Gregory, obtained from Cleveland.

The Giants are counting heavily on the return to 1970 form of running back Ron Johnson, who rolled up 1,027 yards on 263 carries that year, only to be sidelined virtually the entire 1971 season by thigh and knee injuries.

Spitz gathers Olympic gold

MUNICH (AP) — "I feel great!" Mark Spitz exulted. "I did my best tonight, I'll do my best tomorrow and the day after that—and the day after that."

If he does, the handsome, mustachioed California swimmer will be well on his way to garnering an unheard-of seven Olympic gold medals—and on his way to obliterating the memories of Mexico City.

He brought the United States its first two golds in the 20th Summer Games Monday, rocketing to an astounding triumph in the 200-meter men's butterfly, then anchoring the victorious 400-meter relay team.

It was also a day in which Air Force Capt. Micki King of Hermosa Beach, Calif., dazzled her way to a gold medal in the three-meter springboard diving, Vic Auer of North Hollywood, Calif., came within an eyelash of a gold in small bore riflery and the young Yank basketball team continued its winning ways.

Spitz can make it three in a row tonight with a victory in the 200-meter freestyle final. The women, meanwhile, still seeking to get out of the wake of Australian sensation Shane Gould, will be out to gain a gold in the 200-meter breaststroke.

"I remembered what happened in Mexico," said Spitz, who had brashly predicted he would personally win five golds, only to fail in all five attempts, winding up merely as one member of two winning relay teams in those games four years ago.

"I was a little nervous because of that," he said, recalling his thoughts as he stood on the starting block prior to the butterfly.

A scant two minutes later—a world record 2:00.70, to be exact—the 22-year-old Indiana University pre-dental graduate from Carmichael, Calif., had his first gold, leading a 1-2-3 sweep.

Gary Hall of Garden Grove, Calif., a surprisingly distant fifth in the early going, came on with a rush to win the silver medal, barely nosing out Robin Backhaus of Redlands, Calif.

Minutes after that, Spitz was back in the water, following Dave Edgar of Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., John Murphy of Hinsdale, Ill., and Jerry Heidehreich of Dallas, the first three swimmers in the relay.

Again he churned along and again a world record was broken. This time the final clocking was 3:26.42.

Andrews sets pace in White Sox victory

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

Chicago's Mike Andrews bedeviled the Boston Red Sox Monday night while Oakland's Angel Mangual lived up to his name and kept the A's on the heels of the White Sox in baseball's American League West.

Andrews drove in five runs with a home run and double to pace the White Sox to a 6-4 victory over Boston. They remained one-half game in front of Oakland when the A's rallied for five runs in the seventh inning, three on pinch hitter Mangual's tie-breaking homer, and edged Cleveland 5-4.

In the only other AL contest, Baltimore's Jim Palmer blanked Minnesota 2-0 on five hits, pulling the Orioles to within one game of idle Detroit in the East Division.

There were only three games in the National League. Cincinnati downed the New York Mets 5-2, Pittsburgh shaded San Diego 5-3 and St. Louis defeated San Francisco 4-2.

Andrews hit his seventh home run of the season in the fourth inning following Dick Allen's double and a hit batsman after Boston starter Sonny Siebert had mowed down the first 11 Chicago batters. Andrews doubled two more runs across in the sixth and pinch runner Luis Alvarado then scored on a single by Rich Morales.

Boston bounced back with three runs in the bottom of the sixth on Andy Kosco's solo homer and Carl Yastrzemski's two-run single but the White Sox hung on.

Cleveland's Roy Foster hit a two-run homer off Oakland's Vida Blue and Steve Dunning held the A's to one hit for six innings before the roof fell in.

Newly acquired Matty Alou led off the big seventh with a single, Reggie Jackson walked and the runners advanced on Mike Epstein's ground-out. After an intentional walk to Sal Bando filled the bases, Ted Kubiak's sacrifice fly delivered one run and Gene Tenace's game-tying single chased Dunning. Mangual then slammed an 0-2 pitch from Mike Kilekenny far over the left field fence, giving Oakland just enough runs to withstand a two-run homer by Graig Nettles in the ninth.

Baltimore's Palmer got the only run he needed when Don Baylor homered in the fifth inning off Dick Woodson. Boog Powell singled across an insurance tally in the eighth as Palmer breezed to his 18th triumph and stretched Minnesota's scoreless string to 24 innings.

The Twins just finished dropping a three-game series to Detroit and manager Frank Quilici called the East Division dogfight a tossup.

"Baltimore has some great players who haven't been hitting," he said. "They're liable to bounce back any time and start them off on a winning streak. They seldom make any mistakes and they have great pitching.

"Detroit, on the other hand, is starting to get great hitting. Also, Willie Horton is back in form after coming off the injury list and Al Kaline is just coming back strong."

Cincinnati's Gary Nolan, making his first start in 26 days after suffering from muscle irritation in his neck and shoulder, limited the Mets to one hit in the six innings he worked and picked up his first victory since July 13.

George Foster batted for Nolan in the sixth and doubled to ignite a four-run inning that broke up a scoreless duel against rookie Brent Strom. Pete Rose walked, Joe Morgan singled the first run across and Bobby Tolan homered. Cincy's Denis Menke and New York's John Milner hit solo homers later.

Willie Stargell walloped a pair of two-run homers to spark Pittsburgh past San Diego. The Padres made it close with back-to-back solo homers by Leron Lee and Nate Colbert in the ninth.

Rookie Don Durham hurled his first complete game as the Cardinals beat the Giants and sent struggling Juan Marichal to his 15th loss in 20 decisions. Lou Brock teed off on Marichal for a leadoff homer in the first inning and Luis Melendez ripped a two-run double.

➡ New York Met third base coach Eddie Yost played 2,109 baseball games in the major leagues. He never played minor league ball.

Olga is outraged with U.S. Olympic officials action

MUNICH (AP) — Olga Connolly's dark-brown eyes were afire with rage and indignation.

"They are ripping the petitions right off the walls," she said. "They warned one of the shops where I have friends that if one of my petitions showed up there they would have the shop closed.

"It is terrible. They are violating our constitutional rights."

The controversial, 39-year-old former Czechoslovakian, elected to carry the U.S. flag in last Saturday's Olympic Parade of Athletes, charged Tuesday that U.S. Olympic officials were striving to thwart her latest efforts to get Olympic athletes to call for a cease-fire in Vietnam.

Olga said she had posted a petition at various spots throughout the Olympic Village addressed to competitors and dealing with an appeal to President Nixon.

The petition was addressed to the U.S. Olympic delegation, and it said:

"Please read carefully the proposed telegram to President Nixon posted below. Those who agree with its message, please exercise your constitutional right of petition and sign the telegram so it may be sent off no later than tomorrow morning. Those who do not agree, please do not interfere with the constitutional rights of your fellow Americans, and leave the petition displayed as it is."

Below was the following telegram to President Nixon:

"Dear President Nixon:

"In deference to the highest ideal of the International Olympic movement, peace among all mankind, we, the undersigned members of the U.S. Olympic team, respectfully petition our President and Commander In Chief of the Armed Forces to call a halt to our bombing in Southeast Asia during the period of the 20th Olympic Games from August 26 to September 10, 1972."

"I don't know how many signatures we actually got," Olga said. "Friends told they say petitions with names on them—I know of one with seven names—but the petitions were ripped off the walls and destroyed. Olympic officials were seen doing it.

"The athletes were afraid to sign it. They were intimidated. They told me so. It is a very tragic thing, indeed."

Paul Brown

PROSPECTUS — Everything bad that could happen seemed to happen to this young club last year. Still, they're considered one of brightest around for future. Even with 4-10 record they scored more points than they yielded. Lost six games by total of 21 points. Youth movement continues with injection of rookies. Could be the suprise of '72.

OFFENSE

QUARTERBACK—You can practically write off career of lame-armed Greg Cook. It'll be either astute, gutsy Virgil Carter or strong-armed Ken Anderson at helm. Rating—B.

RUNNING BACKS—Could rotate almost a half dozen backs. Starters by midseason should be Fred Willis, fine rookie last year, and burly Doug Dressler, with Essex Johnson delivering half-game breakaway thrills. Jess Phillips and Paul Robinson, regulars at start of '71, are potent, too. Rating—B+.

WIDE RECEIVERS—Tall corps to bedevil secondaries with Bob Trumpy (6-6) shifted from tight end to join Chip Myers (6-5), and Speedy Thomas spelling them. Trumpy one of finest in NFL. Rating—B+.

TIGHT END—Development of Bruce Coslet freed Trumpy for wide role. Not spectacular but steady. Sometimes used double tight end set-up with Trumpy for better blocking. Rating—B.

LINE—It's young and developing. Big news this year should be improvement of Rufus Mayes at tackle. He and Vern Holland make pair who could be around for years. Bob Johnson at center is a standout. New man up front is Ohio State's Tom DeLeone, who can be relief man at guard or center. Rating—B.

DEFENSE

LINE—Starting spot already reserved for Sherman White, the top draftee, at end. Will jack up pass rush tremendously. There's already one superlative guy up front in tackle Mike Reid with the piano-playing hands. Steve Chomyszak and Ron Carpenter duelling for other tackle spot. Rating—B.

LINEBACKERS—There's a good one in the middle you don't hear much of, but he's close to Butkus class—Bill Bergey. Ken Avery on one side has been pleasantly steady for couple of years. Rookie named Jim LeClair could eventually squeeze out Bill Peterson or Al Beauchamp for third starting job. Rating—B.

SECONDARY—It's swift, eager and young. Couple of agile corner backs, Lemar Parrish and Ken Riley, are now complemented by Neil Craig, rookie last year, and Tommy Casanova, brilliant newcomer this year, at the safeties. Cāsanova's a headline maker. Rating—B+.

KICKING—For two years in row, Dave Lewis has been lead punter in NFL (44.8 average in '71), and get long-distance field goals (sometimes erratic on short ones) from Horst Muhlmann, only over-30 man on squad. Rating—A—.

SPECIAL TEAMS—Used to be strongest around, but got burned couple of games last year on coverage. Parrish is fine return man, now joined by Bernard Jackson, rookie in secondary. Rating—B.

PREDICTION

Second in Division. Because Paul Brown, at 64, is eager for that one more title shot.

Razorbacks are picked to derail Longhorns

By DENNE H. FREEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

DALLAS (AP) — Arkansas, based on the wondrous works of gifted quarterback Joe Ferguson, is the odds-on favorite to derail Texas in its bid for a fifth consecutive Southwest Conference title this fall.

Aside from Arkansas' solid position as the preseason favorite, the 58th campaign should be interesting, indeed, with four new coaches at the helm and a big question mark on new Texas quarterback Alan Lowry.

Should Lowry, previously an excellent defensive back, make magic at the controls of Texas' once awesome Wishbone-T attack things could become interesting in a hurry.

The four new coaches are Grant Teaff at Baylor, Al Conover at Rice, Emory Bellard at Texas A&M and Billy Tohill at Texas Christian.

Ferguson completed over 60 per cent of his passes in 1971 before he suffered a shoulder injury. Coach Frank Broyles says without hesitation: "There isn't a better passer in the country."

His prime target is Mike Reppond, who caught 56 passes for 986 yards in 1971.

Ferguson can also run and think. Should the defense drop back to bat down his bullets, he'll spring loose such ground-gobbling runners as Dickey Morton and Jon Richardson.

The Razorbacks are solid, defensively. Louis Campbell anchors a quick and hard-tackling secondary while linebackers Danny Rhodes and Scott Binnion can unsnap a halfback's chin strap with their jarring tackles.

Lowry, a senior, is a talented athlete but Longhorn Coach Darrell Royal admits "I don't know if we have enough time for him to get adjusted to the position. For the first time since 1968, we've come up without a seasoned quarterback."

Injuries caused Texas valuable lost time in the spring.

"To really get greased and oiled you have to work the same folks in the same positions all the time," says Royal.

Should Arkansas or Texas stumble lookout for the Texas Aggies, Southern Methodist, Texas Christian and Texas Tech—all with unproven quarterbacks plus several quality players.

Bellard handled the Wishbone-T operations at Texas and when he arrived at Aggieland he found the cupboard far from bare. Such thunder runners as Mark Green, Brad Dusek and John Bounds were on campus. A tremendous recruiting campaign netted such outside speed burners as Carl Roaches and Bubba Bean.

Lex James and Don Dean could jell at quarterback. If so, look out for the Aggies.

SMU has gone back to its pro-style offense, and should redshirt quarterback Casey Ortez catch fire to team with elusive running back Alvin Maxson the Mustangs could be troublesome. SMU should be improved on defense inspired by the play of safety Robert Popelka, a second-teamer on The Associated Press All-America squad in 1971.

Quarterbacks Kent Marshall and Terry Drennan are the keys to TCU's offensive hopes. TCU has a young team and as Tohill puts it: "We have some good young prospects. They only need actual battle experience."

Texas Tech Coach Jim Carlen was undecided going into fall training between quarterbacks Joe Barnes, Jimmy Carmichael and Jerry Reynolds for the No. 1 post.

Rice and Baylor both will field scrappy teams but depth is a problem.

"I'm optimistic we can compete well against all," says Conover.

"We're woefully lacking in depth almost all over," says Teaff.

A lot of teams in the SWC will have to play "old" in a hurry this autumn to catch the Razorbacks.

To enforce law

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Letters have been sent advising Hot Springs bar operators that the state Alcoholic Beverage Control Department will "strict-ly enforce" state laws setting closing hours, J. P. Brumbelow, state ABC director, said Monday.

Closing hours of 1 a.m. on Mondays through Fridays and midnight on Saturdays are set by state law.

Mayor Tom Ellsworth of Hot Springs said a city ordinance permitted clubs to remain open until 3:30 a.m. Mondays through Fridays.

Brumbelow said the ABC believed the club operators should be notified about the state law before the agency began enforcing it in the resort city.

Marketing Begins for 118,000 Emmet Turkeys

—Hope, (Ark.) Star wide-angle photo, Alex. H. Washburn

JAMES McGOUGH

EVER SEE 4,000 TURKEYS in one pen? That's what you're looking at.

It's just one of 30 four-acre pens in which 118,000 turkeys are being prepared for market by James McGough of Emmet Rt. 2 and Laneburg, on a contract with Mountaire Poultry, a division of Mountaire Corporation with offices at Little Rock and Nashville.

During the turkey production season Mr. and Mrs. McGough are living on Emmet Rt. 2, the picture of the white turkeys Aug. 24 having been made just north of Emmet on the Baird's Chapel road. Mr. McGough after retiring from the Air Force started raising turkeys for Mountaire in 1968. In 1972 he won the Arkansas Poultry Federation's award as the Turkey Producer of the Year.

The statistics on feed consumption are interesting. A turkey hen will consume 15 to 18 pounds in the 20 weeks required to bring her up to market size. A tom requires 26 to 30 pounds of feed and 24 weeks.

The first shipment of hens to market was made Aug. 23, the day before the picture.

Dollars-and-cents campaign launched

DETROIT (AP) — Launching a dollars-and-cents campaign against the Nixon administration, Democratic vice presidential candidate Sargent Shriver claims most of the federal taxes this city sends to Washington end up paying for military programs and the war in Vietnam.

Keeping the only firm commitment of his mostly canceled third week of campaigning, Shriver officially opened the Michigan McGovern for president headquarters Monday and watched his wife Eunice, the sister of a former president, step again into her long-accustomed role as a national campaigner.

Detroit Mayor Roman S. Gribbs was to meet with Shriver for 30 minutes early today following the candidate's visit to a shut-down Detroit factory—a visit intended to dramatize the nation's unused industrial capacity.

"Detroit sends twice as much—$1.6 billion—in taxes as it ever gets back," Shriver told an enthusiastic and partisan crowd of several hundred persons.

He said that upwards of $900 million of that amount goes for Pentagon programs and the war and gave Detroit an imaginary shopping list of things he said that kind of money would have bought the city?

"It would have paid for 32,000 homes at $28,000 each, provided $31 million for the Detroit school budget, furnished 824 additional doctors and 427 dentists."

State shows hike in crime in '71

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Arkansas showed an over-all decrease in crime during 1971, according to the Federal Bureau of Investigation's Uniform Crime Report Monday.

In 1971, Arkansas recorded 30,558 total crimes, or 1,571.9 crimes per 100,000 population, as compared to 30,845 crimes in 1970 and 1,603.6 crimes per 100,000 population.

The state recorded 4,680 violent crimes in 1971 as compared to 4,276 in 1970, but showed a decrease in crimes against property — 25,857 in 1971 and 26,569 in 1970.

Little Rock reported 6,778 total crimes, of which 36 were murders, 60 rapes, 368 robberies, 634 assaults, 2,460 burglaries, 2,772 larcenies and 498 stolen automobiles.

People in the News

MOSCOW (AP) — Angela Davis says that without Russia, "I would not be free."

Miss Davis, the American black militant acquitted of murder, kidnap and conspiracy charges in connection with a California courthouse shootout, arrived here Monday and said she owed her freedom to an international campaign on her behalf led by the Soviet Union.

A crowd of about 200 persons, bused to the airport, met Miss Davis on her arrival.

Most carried flowers. There were two painted signboards saying in Russian and English: "Warm greetings to the brave American patriot Angela Davis."

Miss Davis, a Communist, was the guest of the Soviet Women's Committee, whose chairman, Valentina Tereshkova-Nikolayeva, the world's only woman cosmonaut, greeted her at planeside.

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — A federal judge has upheld convictions of the Rev. Philip Berrigan and Sister Elizabeth McAlister for smuggling letters into and out of prison.

U.S. District Judge R. Dixon Herman in upholding the convictions on Monday set sentencing for Sept 5. An appeal is expected.

Father Berrigan and Sister Elizabeth were the only defendants convicted in the Harrisburg 7 antiwar conspiracy trial earlier this year.

Ace 'kills' fifth MIG

SAIGON (AP) — Capt. Steve Ritchie, the fighter pilot son of a North Carolina tobacco man, says his fifth MIG kill that made him as the Air Force's first Vietnam ace was the pinnacle of his eight-year career.

Ritchie flew to Saigon from his base in Thailand in the same F4 Phantom in which he downed his fifth MIG Monday. He told a news conference that flying fighter planes is "probably the most rewarding and challenging and exciting job there is in the Air Force, without a doubt the greatest thrill that I know of."

"And, of course," he continued," the air-to-air business, combat with an enemy airplane, I think is the ultimate in the fighter pilot business. So really yesterday was certainly the pinnacle of my career."

Ritchie's squadron flies in ahead of U.S. attack planes on raids over North Vietnam to prevent the Communist MIGs from intercepting them. He has close to 3,000 flying hours in his career and a total of 340 combat missions in Vietnam, 160 of them over North Vietnam. He downed his first MIG on May 10, another on May 31 and two on July 8.

ARKANSAS IN CANADA—James L. Hamilton III, Acting Assistant Secretary of Commerce for Tourism, visited the State of Arkansas booth while in Toronto to officially open the United States Travel Service exhibit at the Canadian National Exhibition, Aug. 16-Sept. 4. Two torpedo boats sunk by U. S. ships, plane

SAIGON (AP) — Two American Navy ships with an assist from a Navy plane sank two North Vietnamese torpedo boats off Haiphong Sunday night, U.S. officials reported today.

The action occurred during a raid on the North Vietnamese coast by the cruisers Newport News and Providence and the destroyers Rowan and Robison. Vice Adm. J. L. Holloway III, the commander of the 7th Fleet, was aboard the Newport News and termed the operation a "daring raid into strongly defended enemy territory."

The ships shelled a fuel depot two miles southeast of Haiphong, a barracks 11 miles to the southeast, and coastal defense installations.

The high-speed, 85-foot torpedo boats appeared as the Newport News and Rowan were withdrawing from the attack on a petroleum dump and other shore targets, the Navy said. The two American ships opened fire, and a direct hit from the Newport News destroyed one of the enemy craft. The Rowan's guns set the other afire, and a Navy A7 Corsair finished it off with bombs.

Meanwhile, the Robison dueled with North Vietnamese coastal batteries, its five-inch guns causing one secondary explosion on the shore. The destroyer took shrapnel on its bridge from a near miss but was not damaged, the Navy said.

The raid against the coastal installations was the second such foray carried out by the two cruisers and a pair of destroyers. The first was on May 9, the day U.S. mines were planted in North Vietnam's harbors and coastal inlets for the first time.

In the air war Monday, Navy and Air Force pilots flew 220 strikes against the North despite worsening weather caused by tropical storm Cora.

In South Vietnam, terrorists blasted two bridges on important highways in the Saigon region Monday night, one of them 12 miles from the city, and continued heavy fighting was reported around Quang Tri and in the Que Son Valley.

South Vietnamese spokesmen claimed more than 160 North Vietnamese killed, with government losses 18 killed and 47 wounded.

Associated Press correspondent Dennis Neeld reported that North Vietnamese troops were driven off a 300-foot promontory called Boulder Hill 1½ miles east of Que Son, then counterattacked and regained it a few hours later Monday night. He said the South Vietnamese were pounding the hill with artillery and air strikes in preparation for another attack.

The temporary recapture of the position by the government forces opened the road from the coast to Que Son long enough to send supplies to the government forces in the town and to evacuate the wounded in tanks and armored vehicles.

Although the Saigon command claimed that no enemy troops were in the district headquarters compound at Que Son, field informants told Neeld they were still occupying bunkers around the compound and were defying efforts to dislodge them.

The U.S. Command announced that an Air Force F4 Phantom pilot downed a North Vietnamese MIG21 over the North on Monday to become the third American ace of the Vietnam War.

Capt. Steve Ritchie, 30, of Reidsville, N.C., bagged his fifth MIG — qualifying him as an ace — in a high altitude chase 30 miles west of Hanoi, the Command said.

Destruction of the two highway bridges in the Saigon region was part of a continuing effort by the Communist forces to disrupt commerce and demonstrate government inability to maintain security in the countryside.

At Da Nang, an explosion and fire destroyed a 264,000-gallon gasoline tank at a Shell fuel farm. Firemen using foam were able to control the blaze after several hours and prevent its spread to other tanks.

Military sources in Da Nang said the most likely cause of the blast was terrorist sabotage.

Violent crimes jump in 1972

WASHINGTON (AP) — While the upward spiral of crime in the United States slowed a bit last year, new statistics show a big jump in violent and non-violent crime committed by one suburbanite against another.

Particularly striking was the increase in murder, robbery, larceny and aggravated assault arrests among teen-age suburbanites.

The FBI Monday reported that serious crime rose by 7 per cent nationwide in 1971, the smallest increase since 1965 when it was 6 per cent. The statistics originated with local police agencies and were compiled into the FBI's annual Uniform Crime Reports study.

The FBI reported a 2 per cent hike in big city crime, compared with 11 per cent in the suburbs.

And while 54 big cities showed an actual reduction in total crime, the sheer volume (3.0 million in 1971) of reported urban crimes remained awesome.

The slowing of the increase in the crime rate over-all was wholly attributed to a dip in the growth of property crimes: burglary, larceny over $50 and car theft.

Bicycle thefts were up 17 per cent nationwide.

Violent crime, including murder, rape, robbery and serious physical assaults by one person on another, was up 11 per cent.

Much of the increase in violence, at least in proportion to other areas, was in the suburbs.

Murder arrests of suburban youths 18 years and younger were up 14.5 per cent; robbery arrests, 22.2 per cent; larceny, 10.6 per cent; aggravated assault, 18.1 per cent, and violent crime generally, 17.9 per cent.

Incidents of prostitution and organized vice, drunk driving and embezzlement also were up among suburban youth.

But there was a 5.2 per cent decrease in numbers of suburban teen-agers accused of rape, compared with an 11 per cent increase nationwide.

Property crimes, burglary, larceny and robbery, were up 13.2 per cent among adult suburbanites.

Mail order cigarettes may be fined

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Arkansans were cautioned Monday by the state Department of Finance and Administration that the purchase of mail-order cigarettes on which no Arkansas tax had been paid could cost them a fine of $25 a package or $250 a carton.

State law provides that all cigarettes purchased for consuption in the state must bear an Arkansas tax stamp.

Nixon-Tanaka set to meet on Wednesday

HONOLULU (AP) — President Nixon and Prime Minister Kakuei Tanaka won't arrive until Wednesday, but talks on Japanese-American relations already are under way here.

The new Japan-American Institute of Management Science is aimed at teaching Japanese and Americans the cultural pitfalls of doing business with each other.

"The Japanese aren't impressed with a display of power," said Koshiro Kitazato, director of training. "We believe in the proverb, 'no aru taka watsume o kakusu' — 'an able hawk hides his talons.'"

And, Kitazato added, an initial first meeting with Japanese executives is likely to be circuitous with the parties "going round and round and probably never getting to the point." In contrast, the American executive's directness in making his sales pitch is likely to be considered rude, he added.

Behind it all, Kitazato contended, is a difference in the way decisions are made in the two nations. The Japanese rely on a system called "ringiseido" in which decisions are made by a group, while the American leader has the power to unilaterally make decisions in his own area of responsibility.

"Western people think they can get a commitment from Japanese executives on their first meeting, but they can't," Kitazato said. "This sometimes leads to frustrations and the Americans give up."

In an interview, Kitazato outlined other business hazards.

"Americans think it is a friendly gesture to call a business associate by his first name. A Japanese would be very shocked if you called him by his first name — that's for children."

Even presenting a business card is apt to be perilous. To slide it across a conference table to a Japanese is to deeply offend him, Kitazato said. It should be handed to him with the letter up, so he can read it, preferably accompanying this with a short bow.

Such considerations played a role, Kitazato believes, in selection of Honolulu as site of the Tanaka-Nixon talks. "The last time, (then Prime Minister Eisaku) Sato had to go to California. That was very bad. This time, they are meeting halfway. To the Japanese, that's very, very important."

Fujitsu, Ltd., one of Japan's largest computer industry firms, is sponsoring the school and has committed $6 million to its development. Some 28 young Japanese businessmen are now enrolled, spending much of their time in classes where they learn such things as not to say "ah so" and not to touch their noses when they want to ask, "who, me?"

Vega may get Wankel rotary engine

DETROIT (AP) — Vega drivers may get a whisper quiet ride when General Motors Corp. introduces the Wankel rotary engine, presumably in the small car's 1974 models.

The world's largest automaker announced Monday that the Wankel may be offered as an option in the Vega line "in about two years."

What's a Wankel?

It is a radical modification of the internal combustion engine.

The inventor, Felix Wankel, describes it as a rotating piston.

Triangular rotors revolving in an elliptical chamber provide the power instead of a piston, which goes up and down.

Hearing scheduled

BENTON, Ark. (AP) — A hearing was scheduled for 2 p.m. today before Chancellor Mel Carden of Benton on a petition seeking to enjoin Bill Stratton of near Sheridan from holding a rock festival in Grant County this weekend.

Judge denies injunction petition

TEXARKANA, Ark. (AP) — A petition for an injunction to halt the Cache River-Bayou DeView channelization project has been denied by Justice William Rehnquist of the U. S. Supreme Court.

The denial was in a letter dated last Wednesday.

Richard S. Arnold of Texarkana, an attorney for the plaintiffs in a suit seeking to halt the project, filed the petition Aug. 21. Arnold said the petition had been submitted to Justice Harry A. Blackmun, but that Blackmun was out of town at the time and an assistant to the clerk forwarded the petition to the next junior justice, who was Rehnquist.

In a letter resubmitting the question, Arnold said he wondered whether Rehnquist should have stepped aside in the matter because the suit was filed Oct. 6, 1971, and at some time since then Rehnquist had been an assistant U. S. attorney general. The defendants in the suit are all officers or agencies of the federal government.

The injunction asks a halt to the work until the 8th U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals at St. Louis can hear an appeal of the suit.

When both sides lead the same suit, the odds that one side is making a mistake are overwhelming.

South found himself in a four-spade contract after typical rubber bridge bidding. His two-spade bid was a sign-off but North looked at his 18 points and bid game anyway.

West opened the jack of diamonds. Dummy's queen was topped by East's ace and a diamond was led back. Dummy's king won and South proceeded to play the king and jack of trumps.

West allowed them to hold, whereupon South led a heart to his king; a second heart to dummy's jack and then dummy's ace. East showed out but this didn't worry South.

He ruffed dummy's last diamond; ruffed his last heart; cashed dummy's ace of clubs for his ninth trick, and was still sure of a trump trick for his contract.

East promptly pointed out that West could have beaten the contract if he had taken the second trump and led a third round, but that South would have had a cinch if he had just led one round of trumps.

East's analysis was correct but we can't really fault either South or West. South didn't know that trumps were going to break 4-1; West couldn't know that South held four hearts in addition to his five spades.

♥+CARD Sense♠♦

The bidding has been:

West	North	East	South
1 ♦	Dble	Pass	1 ♠
Pass	3 ♠	Pass	?

You, South, hold:

♠ 8 7 4 3 ♥ 2 ♦ A K 9 4 3 ♣ 7 6 2

What do you do now?

A—Just bid four spades. Your partner is showing a very good hand but you have too much in your opponent's bid suit to warrant slam exploration.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Instead of bidding three spades, your partner has bid two diamonds over your one spade. What do you do now?
